

"Nurse Question", "Patient Response"

"What brings you to the ER today?", "I've been having stomach and abdominal pain for the last few hours."

"Can you describe the timing of your pain?", "It started around 5 PM and has been getting worse."

"On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the severity of your pain?", "It's about a 7 right now."

"What does the pain feel like? Is it sharp, dull, cramping?", "It's a sharp pain, especially when I move."

"Have you noticed anything that triggers the pain?", "It seems to get worse when I eat or drink anything."

"Are there any factors that alleviate the pain?", "Lying down seems to help a little."

"Do you have any other symptoms besides the abdominal pain?", "Yes, I have a fever and I've been coughing a bit."

"How high is your fever?", "I think it was around 101°F when I checked it at home."

"Have you experienced any vomiting?", "Yes, I vomited once after trying to eat something."

"Do you have any past medical history we should know about?", "I have a history of gastritis and I've had similar pain before."

"Are you currently taking any medications?", "I take omeprazole for my stomach issues."

"Do you have any allergies to medications or other substances?", "I'm allergic to penicillin."

"Is there any relevant family history we should be aware of?", "My mom has a history of stomach ulcers."

"Can you tell me about your social history? Do you smoke or drink?", "I don't smoke, but I do drink socially on weekends."

"Have you had any recent travel or exposure to sick individuals?", "No recent travel, but my roommate had a cold last week."

"Have you experienced any back or leg symptoms?", "No, just the stomach pain and cough."

"Is there anything else you think we should know?", "No, that's everything I can think of right now."
